Salesbury Super 6 Knowledge Organiser for Mercury Class (Y4/5)

Learning Focus: History - Time Travellers: The Chronology of Crime and Punishment Autumn 1 2025

Key Knowledge to Learn

- 1 Mayan punishments were the same in each city; laws were meant to be fair and nearly everyone was subject to the same (now seen as brutal and demeaning) laws. Noblemen were, at times, able to buy favour in trials.
- 2 The Romans believed in a variety of imaginative punishments and deterring crime by harsh punishments. They had laws to cover almost every possible crime.
- 3 The Tudor laws were harsh and wrongdoing was severely punished. Punishments were sometimes used for entertainment. People believed if a criminal's punishment was severe and painful enough, the act would not be repeated and others would be deterred from crime as well.
- 4 The Pendle Witches were believed by many to be badly treated due to society's blame culture against minorities, led by King James I and his book and ideas about this group of society.
- 5 In the Victorian period, the police force and prisons were introduced. The legacy on today's methods is clear and obvious.
- 6 Today's UK laws are based on a variety of beliefs from around the world, throughout history.

Vocabulary

Peelers	A nickname for some of the first police officers in the UK, named after Sir Robert Peel , who helped start the police force in the 1800s.
hard labour	Very tough and tiring work that people were sometimes forced to do as a punishment for a crime.
court	A place where important decisions are made about the law . If someone is in trouble or there's a disagreement, a judge listens to both sides and helps decide what's fair and what should happen next.
trial	When a judge (and sometimes a jury) listens to all the facts to decide if someone broke the law .

Ongoing Assessments

- Progress is tracked for every individual child on a termly basis in mathematics, reading and writing. This helps us to monitor progress throughout the year and adapt teaching and support where needed.
- Most children are taught within the year group expectations for the year group, children will be assessed at three different points in the school year against the following criteria: entering, developing, secure in meeting year group expectations. Children are not expected to be secure in the year group expectations until the end of year but are expected to make progress within the expectations throughout the year.
- Children who are not ready for year group expectations will be supported to make progress towards these, children who demonstrate a strong secure understanding of expectations will be challenged through problem solving, deepening understanding, applying knowledge learned and creative learning opportunities
- Support programmes are used to support small groups of children throughout the school as and when needed
- You will be given a termly report including a summary of their learning attitudes and assessments prior to Parents Evening, these help you prepare for Parents Evening and formulate any questions you do have
